

NEW MAN IN VIEW FOR NEW YORK POSTMASTER

No Appointments Will Be Made Until After Election in Any Post Office.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—No action will be taken on the New York Postmaster until after the election. The President, it is understood, will not consider any pending Post Office nominations for several weeks. In the waiting list are nearly a hundred offices that recently have been promoted to Presidential from fourth class offices.

The recommendations for many of them are in the hands of First Assistant Postmaster General Koons, and will not be turned over to Mr. Burleson until after the campaign. A new man will be considered for the New York office, and if William F. McCombs is elected Senator he will have something to do with naming him.

BRIBE MONEY THRUST AT POLICE INSPECTOR RESULTS IN ARREST

Man Went Straight to Dwyer to Negotiate for Opening of Gambling Places.

You have to hand it to Joseph Tomasula. There is no timidity or reservation about his work. When he made up his mind to bribe a police officer he went to Inspector Dwyer. Consequently he was arraigned in Centre Street Court before Magistrate Simms to-day on a charge of bribery and was held in $1,500 bail.

Tomasula owns three saloons in the Italian district on the lower west side and lives at No. 163 West Houston Street. He called at Inspector Dwyer's headquarters at No. 106 Greenwich Street yesterday evening and found the inspector with Detectives Jones and Bailey. The detectives knew him personally and the inspector by reputation.

Tomasula said his uncle, who is known as the "Silver King," had tried in vain to open four gambling houses in property he owned and had decided to ask the co-operation of the police. The uncle, Tomasula said, would pay $100 a month protection money for each house.

"And not only that," Tomasula went on. "I want to open a little stuss game myself and I will pay $25 a month. As evidence of good faith I will pay $125 down right now." He stripped $125 from a fat bank-roll and handed it to Detective Jones. Then they grabbed him.

SCORNE STEPFATHER, SO DROPPED HIS NAME

Given Him in Childhood, Court Petitioner Asks for Change and Gets Another.

Wolf Heinrich F. Kuhl to-day was granted permission in the Supreme Court to change his name to Henry Frederick Henly because his former name is German and was given to him in honor of his stepfather who, he declares, he has scorned for years.

Henly is twenty-eight years old and lives at No. 262 West One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Street. Both his mother and stepfather are dead. In his petition he states that he never has known his real name, as his father died before his birth. "While my old name was given in honor of my stepfather I never honored him," the petition sets forth. "He not only injured me greatly, but he made my poor mother's life unbearable. The name, too, is characteristically German. I am not a German and not in sympathy with German Kultur. I want an American name."

The name Henly is of Scotch origin.

MARS "CANALS" NOT CANALS.

Prof. Lowell Says They Are "Vegetation" Cultivated by Humans.
BERKELEY, Cal., Oct. 17.—Dr. Percival Lowell, for twenty-two years head of the Harvard Observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz., in an address at the University of California last night announced as his present belief that the "canals" of Mars were strips of vegetation under human cultivation, and not water, though undoubtedly watered by artificial canals. He said the smallest observable spot on Mars would be at least ten miles in diameter. Dr. Lowell said it was absurd to assume the earth was the only planet having intelligent inhabitants.

GIRL REVIVES HER $10,000 BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

Preparations She Made for Wedding That Never Took Place Left Her Penniless, She Says.

On the plea that the preparations she made for a wedding that never took place left her penniless, Miss Bessie Buchanan of No. 592 Ocean Avenue, Jersey City, to-day had her $10,000 breach of promise suit against Bernard Gallagher revived by Justice Goff.

When the young woman came all the way from Leith, Scotland, she found, she alleges, that Gallagher was a married man. The shock, she told the Court, caused her intense anxiety and seriously wounded her pride. Two weeks ago the suit was called for trial, but through an inadvertence the young woman defaulted and judgment for $109 court costs was entered against her. Justice Goff vacated these costs and gave her another opportunity to press the suit.

Roomer Found Dead in Bed.
A man, nameless so far as his landlady, Mrs. Katherine Adams of No. 679 Lexington Avenue, Brooklyn, was concerned, was found dead in bed to-day, fully clad and with only 40 cents as the sum of his possessions. He was about fifty years old. He took his room three days ago, explaining that he did not wish to be disturbed in any way. He had been dead, apparently, since the day of his arrival.

AMERICAN CEMENT MEN TO REBUILD IN MEXICO

Factories, Mills and Shops to Be Reconstructed in Large Numbers on the Restoration of Peace.

JUAREZ, Mexico, Oct. 12 (by mail).—Mexico plans to rebuild her revolution-shattered industries upon a firm foundation. With the restoration of peace in the republic the thousands of factories, mills, shops and stores which have been burned, wrecked or partially destroyed by artillery fire or by the work of the bombing crews which are always a part of a Mexican army in the field, are to be rebuilt.

The representative of a large American cement manufacturing company recently visited Andres Garcia, inspector general of consulates for the Carranza Government, and Gen. Francisco Gonzales, commander of the Juarez garrison, and consulted with them regarding the erection of a $1,000,000 cement plant in Juarez to utilize the great shale beds which are to be found at the foot of the Juarez Mountains.

CAR STONERS SENTENCED.

Two Got Three Months in Workhouse and One Thirty Days.
Three men were arraigned in the Harlem Court to-day charged with stoning cars on the Madison and Lexington Avenue lines.

John Wasielewski, a carpenter, of No. 323 East One Hundred and Fiftieth Street, and Stanislaw Siodlowski, a machinist, of No. 304 East One Hundred and Fiftieth Street, were sent to the Workhouse for three months. Daniel Healy, a laborer, of No. 1411 Madison Avenue, was given a sentence of thirty days.

British Government to Take Over the Coal Industry.

LONDON, Oct. 1 (by mail).—The Government is proposing to take over control of the coal industry of Great Britain in the near future, the main purpose of the scheme of nationalization being to give a certain power of control over the neutral shipping which coals at British ports. Coal owners will be allowed to take their present profits if the scheme goes through, but the Government will control the distribution of coal for home consumption, for export and for shipping.

“May It Please Your Honor—” is the way the famous William M. Evarts, New York's great lawyer of the last century, generally presented his case to the Board of Judges.

We have today an interesting case to present to our old and good Board of Judges, composed of the entire citizenship of New York, not only those who have homes, but the younger set with only single rooms; and all who need something more to live with.

Read This Unusual Piano Story

It is of genuine interest to many people.

To begin at the beginning, we were the first of the large stores of any city to add music and musical instruments to our business. It fitted in with the educational side of our work and finally resulted in constructing our great buildings with auditoriums of music and in obtaining the great St. Louis organ and other organs, which have become a daily delight to the public.

When we introduced the Piano Section, it is needless to say that before we were able to collect under one roof the Chickering, the Emerson, the Lindeman, the celebrated Knabe and the Schomacker, now ranking with the very first pianos of the world, each in its class, we made a scientific study of perhaps a dozen of the various makers of pianos, testing with experts their best product; until we arrived at the place where we now stand with only the very best makers' products.

As an interesting incident of our experience, to counteract the scheming and exaggerated prices of several dealers in pianos who trusted simply to advertising and to various devices to tempt the public to buy pianos, we entered into an agreement with a well-known piano manufacturer to make under his own personal name a piano to sell at $195 which would be in all respects as good as many pianos selling under various misrepresentations in the cities throughout the country at prices as high as dealers could engineer—(often as high as $300 and sometimes as much as $350).

The Piano Referred to Is the Excellent J. C. Campbell at $195

During the ten years of satisfaction to ourselves and the people who had put the J. C. CAMPBELL into their homes, we sold more than 8,000 of these pianos.

Exercising extreme carefulness to have full knowledge of the facts before we should speak, it is quite safe to say that we have assured ourselves that it was a rare thing to have complaints from purchasers of the J. C. CAMPBELL PIANO, and that its sale continued through all the years to be the marvel of piano makers and dealers as to how we could afford to give a piano of so much character, quality and tone, for so small a price as $195.

Owing to the death of two important men, one of the makers of this piano and the other a Manager of our Piano Section, it was found that a misunderstanding existed as to our relation to the contract for the piano in question, and we voluntarily discontinued its sale.

Now the J. C. Campbell Piano Is in Its Old Home in New York

Suffice it to say that neither of the men who originated the concern which produced the J. C. CAMPBELL PIANO is now living, and that the incorporated company which succeeded it, and its able president, who was once a boy working for Mr. Campbell, having a pride in his old master's name, has prevailed upon us to restore to our favored list of pianos the name of his old master, and we have accordingly entered into a favorable agreement by which the J. C. CAMPBELL PIANO, on and after Monday, the 16th, will be again found on our floors. Furthermore, notwithstanding the advances in the prices of everything that makes a piano, the J. C. CAMPBELL will be made even better than formerly and, what is still better, we shall sell it (at least for the present) without advancing it above its old regular price of $195.

Being makers of pianos ourselves, having skilled workmen employed in New York, Philadelphia and Boston, wherein the best workmen that money can employ are making pianos for us, we are naturally familiar with what is going on in the Piano World, and we feel quite sure that no piano is before the public that has so much value in it for $195 as the J. C. CAMPBELL.

It is a lamentable fact that there are many concerns ignorant of the methods of certain piano dealers, some of whom sell one grade of piano from the same maker under various names, certain stores charging different prices for each name; one dealer of whom we know something sells the same make of piano under three different names at three different prices.

There are some things that need not be argued out because they are self-evident—the daylight in the sky, for example. It is self-evident that a merchant or dealer who sells pianos on a three years' credit and is obliged to employ collectors of installments, and who advertises that no interest is charged on the delayed payments, would lose his credit as a business man at the banks and in his trade, if this were strictly true, because he would be loaning out his money without any return. An advertisement, under such circumstances, may be accepted by a thoughtless person, but the facts will prove that the price of the piano may be raised by probably two or three times as much as the interest would have amounted to, and this is the way the dealer gets back the interest he professes not to charge. We prefer to sell our pianos on accommodating terms, to play the game fairly, to keep to the cash price, and to fix a low rate of interest for the deferred payments.

The J. C. Campbell Piano May Be Purchased on Terms as Favorable as $10 Down and $6 a Month

The J. C. CAMPBELL PIANOS are only beginning to arrive, but the skilled workpeople will be every day at work to keep up the supply that we may generally have some on our sales floors. If we get behind, we will have a waiting list, just as we did in the old times, when we could not get Campbells as fast as they were called for.
